Things to note:

- a. Mediums eligible for the exhibition are painting (oil, acrylic, water media, pastel, egg tempera), drawing, mixed media, and sculpture. Please, no craft, photography, or prints.
- b. Work submitted for review need not be available for sale. You should submit the best representation of your work.
- c. The minimum sales price for artwork in the event is $2,500, of which the artist receives 70%, the Museum 30%. Work submitted for the Committee's review should be at least in that price range.
- d. Two-dimensional work should not exceed 48" framed in width. Three-dimensional work should not exceed 72" in height including the base and diameter should not exceed 48".
- e. If you are selected for the exhibition and sale, you will be asked to submit from three to five pieces of work that are new to the Museum and have been executed within the past two years.
- f. Some subject matter suggestions: For reasons known only to the buying public and thus changeable on a whim, we have found that snowy mountains, northern wildlife, and portraits of specific individuals (people and animals) do not sell as well in Wickenburg as do traditional Western subjects like working cowboys and cowgirls, horses, and desert landscapes.

Please send questions to cowgirlup@westernmuseum.org or call the Museum at 928-684-2272.

Cowgirl Up! 2025 is currently scheduled for March 28 –August 31, 2025, the 20th annual event.
