

Ringtail

The ringtail is the Arizona State Mammal. They are bashful and usually come out of hiding at night. They were once called “miner’s cats” but are not related to cats at all. Ringtails are actually members of the raccoon family.